U. S. Air Force Globemaster Crashes, 159 Escape Death

Queen Gives Philip New Title of Prince

Designed to End Rumors of Rift Started in U. S.

LONDON — Queen Elizabeth formally granted her husband the title of "Prince of the Kingdom" today in an apparent final answer to gossip about his status.

The token promotion of the Duke of Edinburgh was proclaimed two weeks to the day after an American newspaper reported gossip of a rift between the Queen and her husband after nine years of marriage.

THE PROCLAMATION was published in tonight's official London Gazette.

A second proclamation declared that "the Queen has been pleased to declare her will and pleasure that his royal highness the Duke of Edinburgh shall henceforth be known as his royal highness the Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh."

THIS GESTURE was the Queen's first official act of state following her return from a visit to Portugal during which she was reunited with the duke after a four-month separation.

It was this long period apart which apparently set off talk about their status.

THE QUEEN and her husband, however, left little doubt about their love during the happiness of a "second honeymoon" aboard the royal yacht off Portugal last week-end.

The couple returned from Portugal Thursday night for a joyful reunion with their children, eight-year-old Prince Charles and five-year-old Princess Anne.

Bedding Drops, Motorist Stops, Hollers for Cops

A wayward mattress was the object yesterday of a frantic search here by a puzzled desert area motorist.

E. O. Baker, of 67-981 Highway 111, told Village police that he was driving his truck through town when a woman ran up and told him his mattress dropped from the back of his vehicle in front of the Del Tahquitz Hotel on North Palm Canyon Drive.

Baker spun his truck around but by the time he reached the scene, the big, three-quarter size mattress was gone. He vainly scanned the area for anyone staggering under the load of his missing bedding.

Ike, Dulles 'Regret' Israel Refusal Note

Will Welcome Further Talks On Situation

WASHINGTON — The White House said today the United States regrets Israel's refusal to withdraw its troops from Egyptian soil but welcomes "further discussion" of the Middle East crisis.

The White House statement, issued after a conference between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, said this country will say nothing in the United Nations on the subject of sanctions against Israel until later, possibly Monday.

THE WHITE HOUSE said Dulles will confer with Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, expected to return Saturday from Jerusalem, before the United States makes any presentation to the United Nations.

The U. N. General Assembly meets on the Middle East crisis this afternoon.

AS TO WHEN THE United States may make an official stand on sanctions, strongly opposed in Congress, all White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty would say was the no presentation of the U. S. position will be made until, possibly, Monday.

The statement read by Hagerty said: "The President and the secretary of state discussed the speech of Thursday night of Prime Minister Ben-Gurion of Israel insofar as the text was available. The door is certainly not closed to further discussion of the situation."

Two Accident Victims Remain On Critical List

Two Palm Springs area accident victims were still on the 'Desert Hospital' critical list this morning.

They are Frank Travis, 48, of El Centro, assistant Imperial Valley district attorney; and Justin S. Burke, 66, of Oceanside.

Travis regained partial consciousness yesterday, a week after he suffered severe head injuries when his sports car crashed on Highway 99 near Garnet.

Burke sustained a crushed chest when the auto in which he and three passengers were riding was struck by another car as Burke negotiated a turn on Highway 99 near North Indian Avenue Wednesday afternoon.

Seriously injured were Burke's wife, 64, and Mr. and Mrs. George Hilbig, ages 63 and 54, of Surf City, N.J.

Runaway Matador Keeps Running; Location Unknown

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. — A runaway Matador guided missile traveling north at 650 miles an hour had the Air Force guessing today whether it ever will be found.

There were reports the missile, which did not carry an explosive warhead, had been spotted in western Colorado; near Salt Lake City, Utah, and in southwest Wyoming. But none of the rumored sightings could be confirmed.

ONE REPORT SAID the Matador which escaped from ground control at Holloman Air Force Base near here Thursday, crashed and exploded in the Rock Springs, Wyo., area, 700 miles north of Alamogordo, but it later was discovered the explosion was caused by a seismograph crew making a dynamite sounding.

The radio-controlled missile, described by the Air Force as a "pilotless bomber" with a "tactical range," was last seen some 90 miles northwest of Albuquerque. It was heading for the southern Colorado border.

Police Issue Check Warning

The Palm Springs police department today warned hotelmen and merchants to be doubly careful of check passers during the long holiday weekend.

Det. Lt. Robert White said the three-day weekend could be a field day for bogus check artists since it will take five to six days for checks to clear.

He urged businessmen to be on guard for the three-day period starting today.

56 Injured As Airplane Crash-Lands

Accident Occurs On Island in Korea's Han River

SEOUL, Korea — A U. S. Air Force C124 Globemaster with 159 persons aboard crash-landed tonight on a tiny island in the Han River near Seoul, injuring scores of persons.

There were no immediate reports of fatalities but many passengers were reported seriously injured.

BY MIDNIGHT, more than four hours after the crash, 56 injured had been evacuated by Army helicopters to a hospital 20 miles away. A hospital spokesman said most of them suffered burns and fractures.

Far East Air Force Headquarters said the big transport was carrying 10 crewmen and 149 passengers, most of them servicemen flying to Japan for rest and recreation leaves.

THE AIR FORCE said the plane crashed on a small island some 11 miles northwest of Kimpo Air Base, south of Seoul.

The C124 apparently skidded across the island after belly-crashing and ended up partially submerged in the freezing waters of the Han River.

Officials said the plane apparently developed engine trouble and made the emergency landing about 20 miles after taking off from Kimpo.

Sinatra Wins Right to Query Police Officers

HOLLYWOOD — Frank Sinatra has been granted a request that five police officers be ordered to give depositions regarding the serving of a subpoena on him at his resort home in Palm Springs.

Superior Judge Bayard Rhone Thursday granted the request to have Police Chief William H. Parker, Capt. James Hamilton, Investigator Lloyd Harris and two detectives give depositions March 7 on methods used in serving Sinatra with the subpoena.

The crooner was subpoenaed early last Saturday to appear before a state Senate Interim Committee on Collection Agencies. The committee reportedly will spend part of a three-day hearing next week investigating possible links between private detectives and scandal magazines.

Sinatra has accused two police officers of violating his civil rights by serving him the subpoena while he was in bed in his Palm Springs home.

The committee subpoenaed Sinatra in an attempt to gain more information about an alleged raid by private detectives on an apartment reportedly to collect evidence in the divorce of Marilyn Monroe and Joe DiMaggio.

Late News Bulletins

POWAY UP — The body of a boy about one day old was found on the shoulder of a country road, the coroner's office reported today. Death probably was due to brain damage at the time of birth, the office said.

PASADENA, Tex. UP — A huge tank filled with 100,000 gallons of caustic acid exploded today, sending fire through the Champion Paper & Fibre Co. plant and endangering the Houston ship channel industrial area for more than an hour.

HOLLYWOOD UP — Actress June Allyson said today that she and her actor-producer husband Dick Powell have separated after 11 years of marriage because of "incompatibility," with no immediate divorce plans.

ROBERT J. STONE'S "Study in Blue" (pictured above with the artist) was awarded the blue ribbon in contemporary oils this week at the Riverside County Fair and Date Festival in Indio. The first prize, awarded by a jury, carries a nominal cash award. "Study in Blue" was painted a year ago in Laguna and is a fine example of Stone's technical skill and subtly defined palette. A follower of the Impressionistic school of painting, Stone's work while derived from such recognized masters as Cezanne, Van Gogh, Gauguin and Pizarro, at the same time comes through with the authenticity of his own outstandingly creative talent. A resident of Rancho Mirage, Stone maintains his art gallery on Highway 111 in the Thunderbird area and is engaged as color consultant at Vee Nisley Interiors.

Police to Crack Down on Teens Easter Week

Cracking down on the invasion of juveniles during Easter Week, Chief of Police August G. Kettman today issued a statement making the position of the police department clear to all concerned.

Pulling no punches, the Chief said that citations will be issued or arrests made for first offenses and no warnings will be issued.

In the statement to the press, Chief Kettman said, "strict enforcement of all laws and ordinances will be followed during the Easter vacation period. This includes traffic, liquor and curfew regulations. Children sixteen years and under are required to be off the street by 10 a. m. unless accompanied by an adult."

"Juveniles in vehicles will be watched closely, and none will be permitted to sleep in cars," the Chief added. "Special agents of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board will be in the Village to assist and a maximum number of police regulars and reserves will be working around the clock to prevent disturbances and vandalism."

In cooperation with the Palm Springs Youth Council and Palm Springs Hotel Association, the chief asked that hotels not house unchaperoned groups, as they have been a source of disturbance in the past.

Police Honored For Starting Hub Cap Work

An article in the March-April issue of California Peace Officers magazine, credits the Palm Springs Police department with the first use of acid to bring up license plate numbers that had been ground off hub caps.

The article, with picture, tells how laboratory technician Dick Addison successfully tackled the task.

Problems of Growth Cited by Anderson

The increasing problems brought about by the tremendous growth of California, especially Southern California, was the topic of an interesting talk by Paul Anderson, chairman of Riverside County Board of Supervisors before Palm Springs Lions Club and guests Thursday noon in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi.

Earl Hough, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced the speaker.

CITING FIGURES showing the great growth of California day by day, Anderson said that long-range planning was the great need. Lack of such planning can raise havoc, he said.

The growth is also presenting a

PUC Asked Not to Close Phone Investigation Here

Public Utilities Commission in Los Angeles yesterday took under advisement a request by the Chambers of Commerce of this area to keep the proceedings before that body open for at least a year.

The request was made by Attorney Clayton Thomas in closing remarks at the hearing yesterday, after the PUC heard the balance of testimony in rebuttal by the California Water and Telephone Company, the Coachella Valley Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

THOMAS LEVELED his closing attack against the companies and charged that it became necessary for the large staff of the PUC "to inspect and analyze the equipment and operations of the companies, to lead the company experts around like children, and to point out to them the obvious defects," and added that this expense to the taxpayer could "easily have

Boys Club Plans Given Approval By Directors

Tentative plans for a new Palm Springs Boys Club were approved today by the club's board of directors.

The board, headed by Art Jarrett, agreed on a standard Boys Club of America plan adopted by several Southern California clubs.

The building, measuring 86 by 130 feet, will be located on a strip of land between Fire Station Number Two and the Polo Grounds Driveway off Sunrise. The land was turned over to the club by the City Council.

Cost of the building is indefinite and board officials said construction work probably would not begin before the end of the year. Joseph A. Weiger, board building chairman, was commissioned to discuss the building plans with local architects.

Officials, who gathered for a breakfast meeting at The Springs restaurant this morning, said the new building will contain an arts and crafts room, a library, game room, kitchen, executive offices and various other rooms.

Under terms enacted by the City Council, the club has until June, 1958, to begin construction. The land will revert to the city if no action is taken by that time.

Visitor Loses $400 to Thief

Palm Springs police are today looking for four $100 bills taken from a Village visitor Wednesday night or Thursday morning. Alfred Brophy, of Arcadia, said the bills were taken from his money clip by pickpockets, or from his hotel room.

ADDITION TO THE Desert Hospital reached the 50 per cent completion mark this week, with work being speeded ahead. After the construction was started in September, it was found that it could not be completed with the money made available by bonds, so money was raised by popular subscription, and by Jan. 15 a total of $50,000 had been collected to meet the costs. Donations were received from Mrs. Robert Mandel, $20,000; Mr. and Mrs. John Stauffer, $15,000; and from Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meiselman, and the Desert Hospital's Womens Auxiliary, $5,000 each. Additional contributions also have been received for equipping the facilities. (Desert Sun Photo).

Plans Ended for Ranch-Type Hotel Near Araby Point as Zoning Denied

Plans for development of a swank, ranch-type hotel near Araby Point ended today as the City Planning Commission reported its denial of a zoning change application.

Commissioner Hy Ranes said the planners rejected the application submitted by William Landale on grounds that the hotel would create problems of safety and would nullify ordinance protection granted area property owners.

ARABY AREA property owners previously voiced opposition to the hotel planned for construction behind Smoke Tree Ranch off Araby Point.

Ranes said that commissioners denied the application on various grounds. The commission felt that the plan was inadvisable because the only access road to the property cut through a flood plain, which means isolation during times of high water for hotel residents.

In addition, planners contended that the greater volume of traffic through R-1, single-residence, districts would be contrary to the protection granted these districts by the zoning ordinance.

IN THE EVENT it is possible to get traffic through, the commission noted that travel over Rim Road would be hazardous, and would jeopardize the safety of motorists.

Other commission action included postponement of action on the Airport Master Plan. Ranes said commissioners decided to study the matter more closely.

The commission also recommended that the City Council change to R-1 zoning a section of water course district land running on the north side of the Palm Canyon dike, from the south city limits to the Araby Bridge.

Re-zoning of the area is regular action taken with completion of the dike.

Two Village Residents Arrested on Dope Charge

Five persons, including two 21-year-old Palm Springs residents were arrested in a narcotics raid on a Studio City motel last night. Sixty-four caps of heroin were found.

Officers went to the motel on a tip that narcotics were being sold and used there. They said they found Theresa Clover and Robert Ross of Palm Springs in the apartment with Mrs. Anita Esterwald, a beauty contest entrant in the Miss Van Nuys contest.

A hypodermic kit was found in the apartment by officers. They waited until the arrival of two other persons—Mrs. Rosalie Darago, 18, and John A. Bennett, 29. The

Police to Issue Warnings for Truck Parking

Warnings will be issued by the police department during the next few weeks to commercial vehicles that park in metered zones and do not put money into the meters.

Chief of Police August G. Kettmann said today that the "pink slips" will warn commercial drivers that they must put nickels or dimes in parking meters or be ticketed.

When construction requires commercial vehicles be parked in metered zones, drivers should contact the police department and appropriate "No Parking" signs will be provided.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

The Doctrine Under Fire

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Eisenhower's Doctrine is not taking the stress of opposition and examination very well. In fact, under the pressure of Democratic attack the Doctrine begins to show signs of what a practicing psychiatrist would call schizophrenia or split personality. Let's see.

To consult or not to consult? Senator Joe O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) pointed out in testimony before a joint session of the Senate armed services and foreign affairs committees that there was a marked difference between what the President asked for in his speech of Jan. 5 and what his legislation (S. J. Res. 19) asks for.

THE PRESIDENT'S address before Congress and the nation said that in the event of a Middle East crisis, "I would ask the Congress to join me in proclaiming" some form of emergency and "I would, of course, maintain hour-by-hour contact with the Congress . . . And if Congress were not in session . . . I would . . . call . . . special session."

But he joint resolution says nothing whatever about Congressional consultation. In fact, S. J. Res. 19 gives the President power to act without Congressional consultation. These are two opposite courses. Yet both are known as the Eisenhower Doctrine. Which one is the real thing?

PERSONAL POPULARITY or political leadership? The President's 10 million majority in the November election is undoubtedly a mandate of sorts. Senator Jack Kennedy (D-Mass.), who feels that the Doctrine is ill-timed and off-target, tells me he expects to vote for it anyhow. He feels that the opposition party should not frustrate a President who holds the credentials of the nation's trust and whose prestige before the free world is immensely important both now and in the four years ahead.

RESOLUTIONS?

(Freeport, Pa., Journal)

The human race is an odd lot. Every year about this time or perhaps a little earlier, we profoundly make a self-examination and declare to ourselves that we will do this or won't do that. Then we immediately proceed within a day or so of the new year to forget or ignore such good intentions. The trouble with the most resolutions is the fact that they are based on self-centeredness.

Perhaps there would be a lot more happiness during the coming year if we were to devote more time to others—such resolutions would pay big dividends.

Why not resolve, even though we are well into 1957, to let thoughts flow outward instead of inward?

Why not resolve to remember the lonesome? Take a few minutes from your everyday tasks to spend a minute or two with those whom you know are alone.

And how about the ill? Time is heavy on their hands—just a few minutes of your time upon frequent occasions might have a great deal more value than some of the medicines they are taking.

Articles tell us that we have a serious problem regarding some of the youth of today. Like the rest of the human race, all they want is love and attention and the knowledge that they count for something in this old world of ours. A little time on the part of each one of us might help to solve minor problems with our youth before they become major headaches.

Then there is this matter of driving. So many of us, when we get behind the wheel of a high powered car, exert the influence of a maniac when we travel like the winds and in effect say: "That bird better get out of my way or I'll show him." What has this attitude

Kennedy feels the Doctrine would have been given more urgency if and when Egypt and Syria were teetering on the edge of Soviet domination. (Secretary Dulles has said that these countries, while anti-West, are still apparently free.) Kennedy contends, as King Saud pointed out, that the Mideast needs American assistance "to secure and protect the territorial integrity and political independence" from the West as well as from the East.

THE SENATOR HAS an amendment to S. J. Res. 19, promising the Mideast our help against all forms of invasion and infiltration. The next few weeks will tell whether the President will insist on his own plan, relying on his personal popularity to force it through, or whether he is offering the kind of enlightened leadership which welcomes constructive advice from Congress.

Peace or War? One of the big moments in the President's first term was when he rebuffed the advice of preventive warriors, among them apparently Joint Chiefs of Staff Chairman Radford and Vice President Nixon, who wanted him to join an Asian war at Dienbienphu. Prior to that decision the President had agreed to a truce in Korea.

IN BOTH INSTANCES he was taking the sound military position, ascribed to him in off-record talks, that this country should fight no more brush wars. The President felt (according to very trustworthy sources) that to scatter our fighting forces in distant places is to invite a Russian attack upon us at home.

He felt, at least until quite recently, that the threat of atomic retaliation is the best way to keep Russia in line and at peace. Well then what's the meaning of the Eisenhower Doctrine with its implication of sending American troops to fight on the sands of Egypt?

A SIGN OF STRENGTH or a sign of weakness? In his brilliant and interpretative Senate speech on the Constitutional aspects of the Doctrine, Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) took a look into the future. Granted that Mr. Eisenhower is a man of courage, what if we some day get a weak-kneed President without the guts to act on his own?

If a soldier-President who is a former Supreme Commander must run to Congress for permission to behave as a commander-in-chief, would not some poltroon-President use the precedent as an excuse for his own indecision? There is nothing in S. J. Res. 19 which gives President Eisenhower more freedom of action than he already has under the Constitution and under numerous precedents by former Presidents. The question can't be dodged as to whether he himself is acting from weakness or strength in this instance.

ARE WE IN OR OUT of the United Nations? In his address on the Eisenhower Doctrine, the President admitted that the UN "cannot be a wholly dependable protector of freedom when the ambitions of the Soviet Union are involved." But in the same message of Jan. 5, the President declared that American military intervention "would also, if armed (Soviet) attack occurs, be subject to the overriding authority of the UN Security Council" where, of course, Soviet Russia has a permanent seat and the veto power.

All these and some other questions are being raised. The Eisenhower Doctrine is not meeting their challenge very well if at all. Twenty years ago, following his triumphant reelection, President Roosevelt launched his ill-fated court-packing plan. The two Presidents, quite unlike in many ways, were both reelected by 40-plus States. Maybe those big majorities can get a man into trouble.

brought for us? Nothing but injury, death and tragedy! So among our resolutions should be one wherein we give thought to the motorists on the highways. Would it not be far better to leave the road-hog have his way and emerge from a car whole and uninjured than to exert our rights and be carried away from a car in a basket? Courtesy on the highways should be one of our resolutions.

Finally, let us resolve to take a little more time for quiet contemplation. Let us set aside a part of each day to make sure we are doing and living in accordance with the dictates of Him who provided all the bounties we enjoy today. Let these be our resolutions!

Still Makes the Wheels Go Round

THIS SIDE of The Sun
By Phat

George Washington, The story goes, Refused to tell a lie. Me, too, I cannot Make them slick. No matter how I try.

I quit trying years ago. In fact, right after I became a husband. Always got tangled up — and caught.

ANYWAY, today we celebrate Washington's birthday. He was really born on February 11, 1732. That year Great Britain ordered the Gregorian calendar in effect in the colonies.

That cut 11 days out of that year and brought the seasons in tune with the sun. So it has been 225 years ago today that George Washington was born even if the dates are different.

THEY LOOK ALIKE and think alike even if they are 3,000 miles apart.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Young, long time Village residents, this week reported an odd coincidence involving their twin daughters, Barbara and Carole. One lives in Washington, D.C., and the other is a student at Chapman college in Orange, out here in California.

On Valentine's Day they sent each other identical Valentine messages, the Whites learned this week as they heard from each girl.

WROTE THE Washington daughter: "Although we are 3,000 miles apart, we still think the same."

The identical twins who sent the identical messages last February 14, attended Palm Springs High School and are well known in the Village.

ELEANOR WAGNER reports this one. A week ago a helicopter with two men aboard got into a jam and had to crash land on the bubble in the Salton Sea area. Neither man was hurt.

But an autoist on an adjacent highway, witnessed the accident and rushed over to the 'copter. Just as the first man emerged, "What happened?" he gasped. "I don't know," said the pilot as he shook himself to see if he was all there. "I just got here."

WONDER who moved into town last fall. The statistics on how the Village spends its money, released by Shelby Langford, city finance officer, every quarter, show that in October, November and December of 1955, five package liquor stores here did $158,506 in business while the year before, the total was $19,040. That is a bump upstairs of 800 per cent!

On top of that, Langford reported that 83 eating and lounges did $2,137,623 in business in that same period in 1956 against $1,437,681 the year before.

Seems Palm Springs is hungrier and thirstier.

BILL FADDEN, who keeps our guests informed on what's doing in Palm Springs, was at the Coral Tree the other day when the television set was being adjusted.

Asked what he wanted, he said: "A bottle of Olympia and Channel 4."

The service man did some more jiggling with the set. Finally he asked: "Would it be all right if we gave you Channel 2 and 102?"

INEZ ROBB:

Money, What's That

These are the days when everyone, including the Secretary of the Treasury, is scared to death that inflation is going to ruin money and keep the printing presses working overtime.

It is Gresham's Law (look it up in your own encyclopedia) that bad money puts the Indian sign on good money, and pretty soon none of it is worth so much as a boxtop.

Oh, I think money is on the way to the ruination bowwows, all right. Only I think it is teevee and not inflation that's putting the skids under it.

OVER THE PAST five years television has bred an increasing contempt for money. Nor am I pointing an accusing finger at the giveaway programs, although it is increasingly difficult to stand at salute in the presence of a five-dollar bill when tiny tots are hauling home thousands upon thousands of dollars for knowing the name of Paul Revere's horse, the make of saddle he favored and whether the horse or Paul counted the lights in the old church tower.

It's not the teevee giveaways but the teevee spectaculars that are giving the populace the idea that money not only ain't worth the effort but that it just ain't worthy anything.

LET US EXAMINE the case of "Mayerling." This 90-minute canape was so widely touted that I decided it would be nothing short of subversive not to look at it. I was impressed, no mistake. Never before have so many clichés and so much ham been compressed into a 90-minute period.

But it was all done so stylishly, with so many period costumes and so much palace background that in our household we nicknamed it "tripe a la mode" and let it go at that.

Indeed my motto is "Live and let live" and I would never have brought the matter up if I had not read later on that "Mayerling" is the first solid gold spectacular costing a sum total of $620,000. Of this amount $500,000 went for the production itself and $120,000 for 90 minutes of teevee time.

IT WAS AT THIS turning point that I, who am just crazy about money, began to realize that teevee could be the end of it. Surely $620,000 for a dish of tripe a la mode is enough to kill anyone's respect for the long green. I even began to resent Antaeus Litvak's assault on history.

It is true all right, that Prince Rudolph of Hapsburg was crown prince of the old Austro-Hungarian Empire, and that he was a good-time Charlie. That much Anatole got right. But to this day no one really knows what happened at Mayerling, or who killed whom or why.

THE OFFICIAL dossier on the tragedy was excluded from the state archives of the old Empire and all persons in any way connected with it were sworn to secrecy. Only one thing is certain: Baroness Marie Vetsera, Rudolph's honeybun, knew all about the birds and the bees—contrary to Audrey Hepburn's portrayal of her.

At the time of the event, it was variously reported that the tragedy was (1) a suicide pact, (2) murder by religious fanatics, (3) murder by religious fanatics, (3) (not Marie's), (4) murder by a group of Hungarian noblemen and (5) a suicide and murder with the Baroness doing the shooting.

THE MOST INTERESTING version of the tragedy I ever heard was told me some years ago by a man whose father had been a high-ranking Austro-Hungarian diplomat during the days of the Mayerling tragedy. His parents had told him that Marie's enraged male relatives had broken into Mayerling. In the fight that ensued, Prince Rudolph was brained with — appropriately enough — a champagne bottle. And Marie got in the way of a bullet.

But even this version isn't worth $620,000 on a 21-inch screen, even in compatible color. And certainly the insane version of Mayerling served up by teevee at that price can only lead to either the total devaluation of money or television.

Want to talk about faith in the future growth of Palm Springs? Actually, talking isn't even necessary and if you haven't got time to go and see for yourself allow me to describe the kind of faith I'm talking about.

Towering above Las Palmas Estates is a new subdivision called Palm Vista Estates. When completed this development will run into about $3,000,000 or more.

ODDLY ENOUGH this 20-acre site will not cost 50 or 60 homes dotting the scene but only 19. Just 19 homes, each one costing between $150,000 and $200,000 each. There are two men behind this development who for a long time have been in love with Palm Springs and the desert.

They are Monte Warshawer and I. (Rube) Rubin. These two men are on the job every day watching workmen as they construct these homes. "If the plans call for a certain feature and it does not look right, out it goes, that is it is torn out, and something that is more fitting installed."

WITHOUT A DOUBT it is one of the highest priced subdivisions in the world, or at least equal to the best. If you've got what it takes financially to buy one of these beautiful homes with the City of Palm Springs and the desert beyond stretching before your eyes like a carpet as you look through any window—then go up to Palm Vista Estates and take a look.

I thought it was a good bit of news to include in our column because it certainly spells that Palm Springs will continue to grow and grow, and that means a bright future for all of us who have to live here. By the way George Gannon, realtor, has been appointed exclusive agent for this development.

THAT THOROUGHLY human being L. Wolfe (Wolfie) Gilbert two or three months ago, seemed in his stories about Tin Pan Alley who or three months ago, seemingly has never forgotten our conversation.

Among other things he has just written to inform me that Irwin Winhouse, vice president of Vantage Press, will be guesting in our city starting this Saturday. It is Mr. Winhouse's firm which is now engaged in publishing Wolfie's book: "Without Rhyme or Reason," now in its third printing. You will remember that Gilbert is a director of ASCAP who has authored more than 200 songs which hit the big time.

CHAIRMAN OF THE County Board of Supervisors Paul Anderson dropped in on my office yesterday for a little chat. We should be mighty pleased that this fighting squared-jawed man is now sitting at the head of that board instead of Willie Jones, who by his very actions over a period of years indicated that he had no love for this part of Riverside county.

"We're going to have a progressive county government within the next six months if it's the last thing I try to do," declared Anderson. "Not only that," he continued, "but we are going to have the whole of Riverside County pulling together like a team—if that's at all possible."

I believe this man who now heads a majority on the board will accomplish for all of Riverside County that which Willie Jones, the dethroned head of the same board, used to say: "I'm agin' it."

NEW YORK—Marlon Brando's trying to become "normal" but I'm not sure he's made it. He hired two Hollywood press agents—and has a Japanese girl friend singer Miyoshi Umeki . . . Ethel Merman has an "Eisenhower corner" in her Park Lane apt. The letters framed there from Ike to her husband Bob Six, are signed, "D.E."

Walter Pidgeon is the best dressed Hollywood actor — and Adolph Menjou's the worst, claims Tailor Irving Heller . . . Gary Cooper couldn't get tickets to the opening of Tom Ewell's "Tunnel of Love" sexorama, so he went to a preview. The show has a $50,000 advance — and some weeks in June are already sold out.

TANA LOUISE the stripper would like to pick a fight with Tina Louise of "L'il Abner." Tana, a Concinnation, claims that's her real name and also declares she wears no padding. (Tina doesn't either, Tana!) . . . Of a certain marriage, Ted Berkelman said, "It was a quiet wedding—the shotgun didn't go off."

I went around to see Jerry Lewis at the Palace and found Danny Kaye, Richard Rodgers, Betty Kean and Jackie Keller there—and Jerry said, "And I see Yul Brynner over there—oh, pardon me, lady!" Jerry, whose first-night crowd wasn't too enthusiastic, said to me: "An opening night audience doesn't come to see the show; they come to have the show see them."

AFTER HAVING aquavit, Finnish beefsteak, brown bread, etc. at Finland House, Dr. Frederick Ingvaldstad was asked if he didn't want some dessert. "No, thanks," he groaned, "I'm Finnish-ed."

Sluggish-type story dredged up from the past: "My father and mother were first cousins and that's why I look so much alike" . . . Juvenile delinquency, according to H. G. Hutcheson, is kids acting like their parents.

"DEAR GARRY MOORE: You are having a contest or something to find out who looks like you. The Earl Wilson Fan Club is indignant. If you weren't chicken you would admit our hero is the winner. (Signed) The Earl Wilson Fan Club, Earl Wilson, President, Mrs. Earl Wilson, V. Pres., Earl Wilson's Mother-in-Law, Secretary."

Three Jackie Gleason writers — Marvin Marx, Walter Stone and Herb Finn—felt hurt when Jackie publicly credited two departing writers (Sid Zalenka and Andy Russell) with a script they'd also worked on — so they quit. To pacify them, Jackie raised their pay and may even let them take a bow. Pretty soon all shows will have writers taking bows which is only proper because the writing's the thing and besides writers are so pretty.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Aristotle Onassis' ann'y gift to Grace and Rainer will be a $1,500,000 yacht . . . Panama's press, asked Elizabeth Taylor Todd to queen it over their Mardi Gras March 1 . . . MGM's rushing Dean Martin's film, "10,000 Bedrooms," may open it while Jerry Lewis is still at the Palace . . . Miami's Cotton Club revue, with pretty Sallie Blair, may become an NBC-TV spectacular.

A young celebrity was bounced from a cafe for getting loaded and kissing the owner's dog . . . Eartha Kitt wired from Calcutta, "They accused me of spying, but they won't say who I'm spying for" . . . Mae West's planning a new Las Vegas casino . . . Jockey Hedley Woodhouse's daughter, 2, was burned when she stuck a hairpin into a light socket.

Busty Rosemary Ridgewell, who used to keep Bill O'Dwyer company now spends time at The Harwyn with wealthy Earle Mc Kay . . . Rita Hayworth will make her live TV debut plugging her film, "Fire Down Below" . . . Sir Anthony Nutting may get the divorce here if his wife balks at doing it in London . . . NBC's radio version of "Tonight," called "Nightline," previews in March . . . London Buzz: The Queen will knight Noel Coward, despite his tax runout to Jamaica.

EARL'S PEARL . . . Liquor is sometimes handy. It gives people—who'd act that way anyway—something to blame it on.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "There is only one way to handle a woman," insists George DeWitt, "—and the guy who figures out what it is will make a million."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "The only thing Miami has that New York hasn't right now is New Yorkers."

Quiz Whiz Charles Van Doren may be a genius, but, men, if you were going camping, which Van Doren would you invite — Charlie or Mamie? . . . That's earl, brother.

NEW YORK — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, former supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, warning of a need for "know-how" in selling the American concept of freedom to foreign countries:

BETWEEN CHECKING in guests a group of hotelmen on San Lorenzo are putting in their spare time building a park which will both beautify their properties and add to the enjoyment of their guests. Bending to the job are, left to right, Reggie Brookson, Algiers Apartments; Richard Launder, The San Lorenzo; Fred Tripi, Arrowhead Arms, and Ed Tonnensen, The Matador.

Hotel Owners Start Project Of Improvement

The San Lorenzo Park Association, a group of enterprising hotelmen on San Lorenzo, have a project under way which will not only improve their area but will provide their guests with greater recreational activities.

Located on San Lorenzo between the Place in the Sun and The Matador, the park will offer shuffleboard courts, pitch and putt, table tennis, putting green, croquet court, horseshoe pitching and badminton courts.

The property is owned by Joel Stone, owner of the Place in the Sun, and the work is being performed by the association which includes: Richard Launder, owner of the San Lorenzo; Reggie Brookson, owner of the Algiers Apartments; Ed Tonnensen, owner of The Matador; and Fred Tripi, owner of Arrowhead Arms.

The two shuffleboard courts are already open for play and the grass has been planted on the pitch and putt green. At the completion of the present projects the group will erect tennis courts and an outdoor barbecue.

Indio Armory Construction to Start Monday

Construction is scheduled to begin next Monday on a $111,450 armory at Indio which will provide facilities for Company A of the 134th Tank Battalion.

The State Military Department announced Wednesday that the 11,000-square-foot building will be built by L. P. Scherer, Redlands. It is scheduled for completion Oct. 10.

The federal government provided 75 per cent of the funds for construction of the armory. The state contributed the other 25 per cent.

The first telephone was established in Arkansas in 1879.

National UJA Leader to Give Award to Harpo Marx

Comedian Harpo Marx will be presented with the United Jewish Appeal Entertainment Award at a cocktail party in his honor here Sunday.

The award will be presented at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robbin, 1120 East Alamo Road, by Irwin Buckalter, of Los Angeles, a member of the United Jewish Appeal Study Mission to Israel and a national UJA leader.

The party, running from 4 to 6 p.m., will launch the special gifts division of the local, $100,000 UJA fund drive.

Appeal officials said Marx will be honored for devoting more time to the United Jewish Appeal than any entertainer on the West Coast. During the year of 1956, he helped raise millions of dollars in benefits staged throughout West Coast areas, officials reported.

The 1957 Appeal drive in Palm Springs is headed by Max Grone and his co-chairman Henry Birns. Honorary chairman are Eddie Cantor, the Hon. William H. Friedman, Barnett Ginsburg and Henry Weinberger. Advance gifts chairmen are Abe Levin and Stanley Rosin.

Howard Brezin is treasurer and Erwin Halpern is secretary.

HOTELS AND AUTOMOBILE dealers are warned against this man, wanted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and police departments of southern California. Known as Mortimer Charles Diamond, a bogus check artist, he is wanted by the FBI for an illicit, interstate car racket. In the past two years he has hit two local hotels for a total of about $400.

Fellowship Plans Panel Discussion

The Westminster Fellowship of the Cathedral City Community Church will conduct a parent-youth panel Sunday night at 6:30 p. m. in the church hall on Cathedral Canyon Drive.

Museum Guest Lecturer to Be Colonel Mitchell

The Desert Museum's Guest Lecture Program for Saturday evening has been changed from Frances Stevens School to the Museum auditorium, Dr. C. E. Smith, director, announced today.

The program will introduce to the Village Col. M. M. Mitchell, member of the Photographic Society of America—Color Division and Technical Division, presenting a color slide program on Acadia National Park, Maine, and the White Mountains of New Hampshire.

These are two of the approximately 30 National Parks the Mitchells have been developing pictorial records of over the last several years.

Because of the Museum's limited facilities, it is advised that the public come early to get seats, Dr. Smith said.

CASA MANADRIN, an Oriental art shop at 100 East Andreas Road, is the American home for Mr. and Mrs. George Yao, late of China. Both refugees from Communist transgressions, the couple started life anew in the resort city last October. (Desert Sun Photo).

Mandarin Jackets Do Not Conceal Americanism of Chinese Refugees

By AL LE ANCE

Step through the door of Palm Springs' Casa Mandarin and you feel like you've walked into a world at least 6,000 miles west of California.

But that's your impression — to its owners George and Lillian Yao, the place is just about as American as Desert Circus Week.

It's a narrow shop at 100 East Andreas Road, and it's packed with the kind of Oriental artwork that transmits an aura of centuries-old culture.

WHICH IS SOMETHING of a strange setting for these modern, enthusiastic youngsters (they're only 36) and lived a lifetime of drama in a hectic, deadly game of tag with Chinese Communists.

"I lost my home to the Communists," George recalled, and twice my family gave up everything to escape the Japanese."

He glanced at the intricately carved chests and figurines lining his shelves, and tapped a beautiful, translucent screen — his own handiwork.

"IT'S A GOOD feeling to have a home again," he sighed.

George, the son of a prominent Chinese movie executive, smiled at his wife. Both wore Mandarin jackets, but George's slacks gave him away as a died-in-the-wool American.

"George feels more at home in America," his wife remarked. "I feel at home too, but I was born here."

A NATIVE OF Minneapolis, Minn., Lillian was educated in the United States but spent many years working in the Orient. She met George the second time he was dispossessed by the Communists. "They moved us everywhere," said Lillian, speaking of the Nationalist and U. S. governments. "We went to Formosa, Hong Kong and Japan. I didn't think we'd ever stop moving."

The couple met in Hong Kong following Lillian's flight from Communism.

"I WALKED OUT of Shanghai with two hours notice," she recounted. "I had to leave everything behind—even my grand piano."

The piano, imported from the West, was a prized household item. George's father, Far East representative for Universal-Interna-

School Polio Shots Planned

Polio shots are scheduled for Palm Springs school youngsters ranging through the eighth grade, for March 12 and 13, school district officials said today.

The school district has enough serum to inoculate 2,000 youngsters.

Time and location at which the shots will be administered will be announced early next week.

Chamberlain Votes With Old Guard 1st Time

The supervisors voted three to two this week to authorize Herman O. Ruhnau, Riverside architect, to proceed to draw up new plans and specifications for intern residences at the county general hospital with 16 two-bedroom units.

The dissenting votes were cast by Supervisors George Berkey and Paul Anderson. Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain joined Supervisors Fred McCall and William Jones for the first time since he became a member of the board Jan. 8.

AT THE INSTANCE of Supervisor Anderson, Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, hospital consultant, had asked officials at the hospital for their preference as to two-bedroom and three-bedroom units and had returned to the board to report that they requested four three-bedroom units to take care of interns with several children the remaining units to be two. He said they now have four interns who might need the three-bedroom units.

Berkey suggested that plans be prepared and bids asked on alternatives, one to include the four three-bedroom units and the other to be all two-bedroom units, and Anderson thought it a good idea.

There are approximately six million two-car families in the U.S.

Dr. Goldberg said that the estimated cost for 14 units is $120,000 and suggested that bids be asked for both 14 and 16 units.

AN AFTERNOON IN HAWAII is the name for the luau fashion show luncheon to be staged at Oasis Hotel on Saturday, March 9, when Stan Jaloff's Beachcomber shops will offer a second annual show of all Hawaiian clothes. Around Town with Hildy Crawford

Old Sol ... shining down on both Palm Springs and Hawaii ... should do a double take on Saturday, March 9 ... when he looks down on the gardens at Oasis Hotel and sees a replica of an Hawaiian scene ... as that will be "An Afternoon in Hawaii" ... offering a colorful luau luncheon ... and a showing of authentic Island garb featuring the designs of Lani of Hawaii ... The sun-washed tropical gardens ... with the lush green lawns ... overlooking the turquoise swimming pool ... with the big brown mountains looming near ... may not fool Old Sol ... but Villagers and winter visitors ... will find it a bit of tropic paradise ...

For this second annual "Afternoon in Hawaii" the Beachcomber shops will present the showing ... of bright and picturesque clothes ... so well suited to resort wear. A trader Vic-supervised menu will offer a menu of Island foods ... prepared by Oasis chefs ... It will be served to guests ... who may be seated either in the golden dining room or under umbrellas on the terrace ...

Pua Almeida and his RCA recording trio ... with a featured singer ... will present Hawaiian music and ... sinuous Tani Marsh will dance ... Last year's show was one of the most enjoyable affairs ... of a season packed with surprises ... and this one promises to be a duplicate ...

It was a party within a party last night ... when Margaret Manasse arranged a dinner honoring S.P.'s birthday ... and had the dinner at Thunderbird's Family Night ...

A golfing centerpiece decorated the long table ... a stretch of green styrofoam made the fairway ... at one end was the 9th hole ...

Room at LaPaz ... were Mr. and Mrs. Vital Haynes ... They were presented with an anniversary cake ... and Al Anthony, a close friend of the Haynes, played their favorite selections ... including, of course, "The Anniversary Waltz" ...

Col. and Mrs. Will Jepson of Oakland ... are spending a fortnight here at Encelia Lodge ... On Tuesday ... Mr. and Mrs. Philip Carlson entertained at bridge for the Jepsons and their friend Mrs. Fred Payne Clatworthy ...

(Listen to Hildy Crawford Monday through Friday, at 11:30 a.m., on KDES, 920 on your dial.)

NEW YORK — Fate may square things this season for little Bobby Shantz.

Through four heart-breaking years he has been one of baseball's most pitiful figures. Once the top player in the American League, a mysterious arm ailment made him a bust with a last place ball club.

But being "through" may have given him an otherwise forlorn hope of playing with a pennant winner.

The New York Yankees acquired him this week in their 13-player deal with the Kansas City Athletics. It figures to be some time beyond the playing lifetime of currently active performers before the As win a pennant. You can't make the Yankees any less than a prohibitive favorite.

AND THE FIGURES indicate that Shantz could stick with the Yanks and, conceivably, play an important part in their pennant destiny.

The theory in baseball is that, while the sore left arm which won a league leading 24 games in 1952 never will regain its durable magic, he still can be an effective performer for three innings.

This makes the 5-foot, 7-inch fielding marvel a pretty fair bet as relief pitcher.

Somehow, whether rival clubs like it or not, the Yankee pin stripe seems to instill a new desire and a new tempo of performance even in the has-beens and the never-weres. Currently, Shantz may fit the former classification but not the latter.

HE WAS A TERROR in 1952 when he won most valuable honors and suffered the break that altered his career. In late September he was struck on the wrist by a pitch off Walt Masterson of Washington and suffered a bad fracture. Wee Bobby never was the same.

Certainly it wasn't the Shantz of old as he developed the crippling sore arm in 1953, probably because of an unconsciously altered pitching motion. In 1954 he went on the disabled list in late June. And the last two years, as he tried to fight back, he had disheartening seasons of five wins against 10 losses and two wins against seven defeats.

Still, last April he tossed a five-hitter at Detroit and there's the added factor that Stengel always has admired him and thus he is certain of a solid chance to prove himself.

By LINDSAY NEILSON

Palm Springs High School officially ended the 1957 Riverside County League basketball season last night putting the polishing touches in their final fifth place standings by literally "making fools out of Perris" in their 45-41 victory. In the words of Ralph Watt, the former coach of the 1956 Warrior Championship squad, "You are out to win the contest, but when you make monkeys out of a hopeless team such as Perris, you are showing a great deal of poor judgement and besides that's just not basketball."

All this discontent arose from a pair of foul shots which were attempted by one of the departing seniors, Curtis Roberts. Roberts undoubtedly one of the greatest sparkplugs the Indians had this year, put on a Globe-Trotter show for the fans in the final minutes of the game. He was fouled several times and was signaled by Al Kazmier, the Redman coach to attempt something new. He did. Curtis tried to sink his free throws by bouncing the sphere hard on the floor. He neglected to sink either of them.

THE LOCAL BEE'S pulled the biggest rabbit out of the bag of the year. They defeated the second place Perris junior squad 45-41 in outstanding upset. Dick McFarland set the pace for the Papooses with 13, he was seconded by Bill Ivy. Pete Menez, top Bee scorer in the league had a terribly "off" night. He only hit for 13. It was discovered that the Jayvees won another game, namely the Hemet contest, by forfeit due to an ineligible player. The little Indians ended on the bottom of the heap for the year. But promise a better season in the varsity next season.

John Warren and Sam "The Shot" Jones ended per usual in the top scoring bracket. They had 17 and 16 respectively and thus put Warren in a solid third place in final league standings with a great total of 209 digits, and a 14.3 average. Other seniors that finished their Prep School cage career were Bill Beck, Gary Waters with 4 counters each, and Ken Bowers. The Indians' Bob Jackson sparked the team with enthusiasm as did Roberts with his antics.

Although they didn't end high in the final league standings, the Indians can be happy with their overall 13-10 season record.

Basilio May Make Bid for Middle Title

CLEVELAND — Carmen Basilio, the hatchet-faced welter-weight champion, hopes to chop down ex-champ Johnny Saxton to night in their title "rubber match" at the Cleveland Arena so that he can try next for the middleweight crown.

The betting is 3-1 that raw-boned Carmen from Chittenango, N. Y., will achieve his second victory over streamlined Saxton of New York in their third encounter before a possible sell-out crowd of 12,700.

Carmen's recently tender right hand has not discouraged his supporters.

In fact the wagering is 7-5 that 26-year-old Saxton does not last the scheduled 15 rounds of the nationally televised and broadcast battle, which starts at 10 p.m. EST.

Women Turn in Best Ball 54 in O'Donnell Event

The women again showed the way to the men in best ball foursome play at O'Donnell Golf Club when the low card in Thursday's play in the Women's Choose Up weekly event was a 54. The best the men could do Tuesday was a best ball 55.

Turning in the low card of 54 yesterday was the foursome comprised of Mrs. Fred Nicholson, Mrs. Harry DeVenney, Mrs. William Powell and Mrs. Georgiana Poston.

Three strokes back at 57 was the foursome of Mrs. Harold D. Wright, Mrs. E. A. Young, Mrs. A. B. Graham and Mrs. Lester Callahan.

Third with 60, were Mrs. Arthur Bailey, Mrs. C. E. Francis, Mrs. Kanrich and Mrs. Magda Rurac.

Other scores were:
61—Mrs. H. K. Dent, Mrs. R. H. Fleet, Mrs. R. B. DuBois and Miss Winifred Hubbard.

62—Mrs. Charles Becker, Mrs. Neil Jamison, Mrs. W. C. McBride and Mrs. Chase Garfield.

63—Mrs. Roy Miller, Mrs. A. R. Wuest, Mrs. John Hamrick and Mrs. McRoberts.

PCL Bosses Oppose Bums Move to L.A.

O'Malley's Denial Fails to Placate Coast Loop Moguls

NEW YORK —The Brooklyn Dodgers' time-honored slogan of "wait 'til next year" took on a decided Los Angeles flavor today but opposition already was mounting in California toward the Bums moving out there by 1958.

Although Dodger President Walter F. O'Malley denied the team plans to move from Brooklyn when he acquired the Los Angeles franchise in the Pacific Coast League from the Chicago Cubs Thursday, several PCL officials saw the handwriting on the wall—and they didn't like it.

BOB COBB, president of the Hollywood Stars, said, "if a major league club does come to Los Angeles, it would destroy the Pacific Coast League from Vancouver to San Diego. It would put us out of business."

Sacramento President Fred David added, "if O'Malley is buying the Los Angeles franchise to play an open classification team in Los Angeles, that's one thing. But if he plans to move the Brooklyn team to Los Angeles, we'll oppose it."

TO OBTAIN the Cubs' Los Angeles minor league farm, the Dodgers turned over their Fort Worth franchise in the Texas League to Chicago and since they are not permitted to operate two clubs in the PCL, they also ended their working agreement with Portland and the Cubs will pick it up.

Additionally, the Dodgers also paid the Cubs $1,250,000, a price some baseball men called "a steal" because "it puts the Brooklyn Club in an excellent negotiating position to transfer its franchise to Los Angeles next year."

One National League official considered the sum a paltry one in light of the fact that "the Dodgers can make more than that back in one year by becoming the only major league club to televise its games in and around the West Coast when they do move out there."

18 Named for Santa Anita 100 Grander

Purse Will Hit New High if All Start in Classic Tomorrow

ARCADIA —The usual feverish rush on the racing secretary's office to enter horses in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap was conspicuously absent today as battle lines for the big race were drawn a day early this year.

Borrowing a leaf from the Kentucky Derby, Santa Anita took entries for the mile and a quarter race which headlines its winter meeting a day earlier and 18 were named at a $500 fee for the golden gallop Thursday.

It was the largest field since 1947 and if starting fees of $1,500 each are paid on the 18 thoroughbreds the gross purse of $145,200 will be the largest in the history of the race. The winner's share will be $108,100, second largest since Azucar won the inaugural handicap in 1935 and earned $108,400.

Disaster Area Communications Plan Adopted Here

Plans for a disaster area communication network were formally adopted here last night by the Palm Springs Red Cross Disaster Committee.

The plan provides a mobile, two-way radio system designed to blanket the city in case of natural or military disaster. Following adoption of the communications system, the committee embarked on plans for a transportation program. Committee Chairman Bert Brown reported.

The committee will meet again next week for adoption of the disaster transportation plan.

Last night's meeting was attended by City Manager R. W. Peterson, who is the city's Civil Defense director; communications chairman Doak Davis and committee members W. L. Brubaker, George C. Chandler, Howard Season, Jess Farmer, Melinda Hough, Police Chief August Kettman, Bill Leonasio, Earle Mitchell, Bob Norie, Arthur Press, Art Sipherd, E. T. Tompkins, Ralph Warren, William Wilson and Charles C. Valentino.

Optimist Club Talk Started In Hot Springs

Al Harris, manager of the Realty Company of America, Palm Drive at Acoma Street office, is spearheading the organization of an Optimist Club for Desert Hot Springs.

Preliminary meeting for the group was held Tuesday noon and officials from the Palm Springs Optimist Club are helping in the mapping of plans for the formation of the club here.

Any interested person is asked to contact Harris for further information concerning the organization.

Haddock to Attend State Convention

Howard Haddock, city recreation superintendent, will attend the ninth annual California Recreation Conference in Sacramento Feb. 24-27.

The conference will embrace some 1,400 recreation, park and parkway administrators, commission members and employees, professional and lay workers for youth serving organizations, hospitals, armed services, and institutions, school and church officials, college recreation faculty and students, P.T.A. members and all interested citizens.

Industrial recreation leaders will meet in a concurrent conference, while the occasion will also mark the Pacific Southwest conference of the N.R.A.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight will address the group, as will many other nationally-known speakers at the general sessions, banquets and meetings.

The conference will also include 76 special sessions and workshops covering such subjects as community recreation, leadership, pending legislation, drawing up master plans, aquatics, family recreation, camping, senior citizens, park landscaping, leisure activities for the handicapped, personnel and budget problems.

The number of power boats on New Hampshire's inland waters totaled 25,851 in 1956, more than double the number of boats registered in 1948.
